WILL PUT FARM PROGRAM INTO OPERATION SOON

Final Draft Will Be Ready Next Week Davis Says

By John Lear, Associated Press Staff Writer. Chicago, March 12.—The New Deal's new farm program will be put into full operation next week, Administrator Chester C. Davis said to the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The first drafts of the working machinery, as drawn in rough by the farmers themselves, will be finished by mid-week, the administrator said.

The work of corralling the recommendations of farm leaders in the program will be carried on in different sections of the country, he said.

From four regional farm meetings at Chicago, the former president of the National Farmers' Cooperative, will be told definitely for the time that how much money they can get from their insurance might be reduced from taxation.

For the farmer, there must be a proposal to receive under the soil conservation act, and just what they must do to get it.

"The work of corralling the recommendations of farm leaders in the program will be carried on in the states or provinces," he said.

At that time, Davis declared, the farmers will be told definitely for the time that how much money they can get from their insurance might be reduced from taxation.

He said the bill would stand in the Senate for a few months, and then be referred to the House.

There is no relief to be had from the tax collector, he said.

At that time, Davis said, the bill will be referred to the Senate Agriculture Committee, which will then be referred to the Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

It was agreed that the bill will be referred to the Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

HUNDREDS FLEE FLOOD AREAS; THREE PERISH

Rivers Swollen By Rain And Snow

By the Associated Press. Peoria, Ill., March 12.—(P)—Hundreds of persons fled for their homes when rain, melting snow and ice caused rivers to flood yesterday.

Extensive property damage was reported throughout New England, New York and the Great Lakes area.

In several districts the floods forced shutdowns of mills, factories and schools.

Residents of low-lying areas quit their homes hurriedly and sought higher ground as rivers continued to rise.

Leroy H. Hauck, 35, was shocked when he tried to adjust a battery charger in the flooded basement of his home at Rockville Park, N. Y.

Henry Roy, 31, drowned when a power house dam at Manchester, N. H., gave way.

Two other persons were killed in the wreck of an express train which struck a washout near Great Barrington, Mass.

Eight passengers were injured in the accident, which occurred in their winter docks at Kingston, N. Y.

Two other boats were torn from their moorings and dashed against a bridge.

Four feet of water in some sections of the river inundated the streets.

Soviets Will Support France If French Germans Clash

By Edward Kennedy, Associated Press Foreign Staff. Paris, March 12.—(P)—France ratified the German-Soviet alliance pact at German embassy in Paris yesterday.

Adolf Hitler took his case to the German people by appealing to a camp speaker in the remilitarized Rhineland, selecting the Badenese honor-cards, stating:

"The nation is truly heroic, and that is the reason we have to fight for the pacification of Europe that was for us."

Reichsführer Hitler baled his proposal for peace, Hitler advanced the most generous offer of the German government, which would then remain hard to believe. This offer gained the sympathy of the German people, but the Reich said that the negotiations had been suspended.

The Senate, aroused by talk of war between Germany and Russia, voted to ratify the Locarno treaty upon a vote of 233 to 52. Germany is ready, he said.

Deputies, claiming that the French violated terms of the Locarno agreement, voted 6 to decide that the German government should also march against the try to force her to renounce her sovereignty.

The Senate, in the basement of the Reichstag, voted to ratify the Locarno treaty, and that would withdraw the mutual guarantee of the German government.

By Milburn P. Akers, Illinois State Associated Press Correspondent.

Washington, March 12.—(P)—Germany, in another sharp warning to Europe, future pacification of Europe would be delayed, "honorable again, rest, upon compulsory re-education than to lie as a nation, incitement and thereby on moral discrimination, which would then turn to war."

They Owe Us a Billion

A foreign visitor to this country once referred to the United States as a "nation of dollar-chasers." It may be true, but chase as hard as we can, we have not been successful in catching up with some billions of dollars owed us by overseas countries. Fact is the amount actually due on loans we made the Allies during the world war has reached the total of $1,040,795,082.32 worth of installments that the Allies have neglected to pay. The total debt is now about $13,870,000.

Senator McAdoo has suggested that Congress name a commission to go into the matter of war debts and see what can be done to make new agreements. McAdoo was Secretary of the Treasury when the debts were contracted. His new plan would send to European capitals a juketing party of commissioners, who would get nowhere with Europe in its present troubled state. The first demand of the debtors would be for a lifting of the ban against new loans of American capital, which they will surely need if they start a new war.

Against the countries that have defaulted on debt payments stands this ban of credit. In enacting the law Congress did no more than a private lender would do if he could not collect from a debtor. It merely refused to grant further credit, which is what any sane banker would do. Now that the amount due has passed the billion-dollar mark, a settlement will be harder to reach. The debtors know that the longer they postpone payment, the harder it will be for Uncle Sam to collect the full amount they agreed to pay.

If another war comes, the debtors will need goods of all kinds. They will turn to the United States, and there will be a great temptation to trade. But it is hoped we have learned our lesson and will demand cash for anything we may sell Europe in future. If indeed American business men will risk the violation of neutrality by carrying on trade with warring nations.

A Brilliant Career

"So Jellicoe is gone. I'll bet I'll be the next to be summoned. I don't think the call will be long. I'm tired, very tired." Thus did Earl Beatty, former first Lord of the British Admiralty, predict his own death last November. He rose from a sick bed to attend the funeral of his colleague, Admiral Jellicoe. He also attended the funeral of his sovereign, King Edward V. An experience which friends say hastened his own death at the age of 65.

Lord Beatty had one of the most brilliant careers in British naval history. Entering the service as a boy of 13, he rose in 35 years through all the ranks of the navy until he stood at the top having acquired every honor his country could bestow, and the honors were many. Admiral Beatty commanded the first battle squadron of the British fleet in the early naval engagements of the World War at Heligoland and Jutland. He received the surrender of the German fleet at the close of the war and destroyed it.

His first recognition came in the Sudan campaign near the close of the last century. He gained further honors by heroic service in the Boxer uprising in China. In the former campaign he gained the rank of commander, being elevated over the heads of 395 other officers in line. In the China campaign he gained the rank of captain, passing 200 other officers on the list to acquire the rank. At the age of 39 he became a Rear Admiral, the youngest flag officer in the fleet.

After the war Lord Beatty made the necessary reductions in naval strength for England and made the post-war adjustments. But he stood always for a big navy, and at the various conferences tried to see that his country kept the road clear to maintain her naval supremacy. He was a true soldier and sailor, and always loyal to his country's interests.

New Picnic Spots

The addition of 32 picnic spots along Illinois highways is welcome news to prospective summer tourists. These places have been sodded, planted with trees and equipped with benches and camp stoves. Tourists may stop, cook their meals, eat and rest. Highway maintenance men will keep the places in order.

Many of these places have been carved from property accruing to the state through the changing of highway right-of-ways. The elimination of a sharp curve leaves a spot of land, which can be made into a picnic spot.

What with all the attractive places to go, it is little wonder people like almost to live in their cars during the summer. There is no longer need to plan a vacation or seek a place to stay. The car and the tourist camp make vacationing easy for thousands who could never before afford it.

THE SLOGAN MAKERS ARE GETTING TO WORK*'News' In Italy

The Manchester Guardian of Great Britain has just published a portion of the Italian government's secret instructions to Italian newspapers over a period of two weeks in February. Bear in mind that all Italian newspapers are required to obey these orders, as you read an excerpt or two from the commands.

"Take no notice of the neutrality bill or the attitude of the United States toward oil sanctions."

"In news from London and Paris avoid any illusion which might seem unpleasant for Germany."

"Treat as negligible all news reaching you on the subjects of Anglo-French negotiations concerning military agreement and understanding."

"Now turn to American newspapers and read their uncensored news accounts and you'll realize that in America we have the greatest freedom of the press on earth."

Homer Seymour was in the city yesterday from Franklin.

Soil Conservation Needed

As if to defy the Congress of the United States, with its new soil conservation program, withering dust storms already are sweeping the southwest, threatening new devastation unless spring rains halt their progress.

Millions of acres and billions of dollars of farm income hang in the balance. The "dust bowl" area of the southwest presents irrefutable argument for soil conservation, regardless of whether it carries benefits or rewards to farmers for participation.

Conservation is a national necessity. The Department of Agriculture cannot attack this vital problem too quickly. It is to be hoped that the vast size of the task will not slow up too greatly its administration.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Little Brown Book on F. R.'s Desk Tells How to Run Our Capitalistic Machine . . . It Forecast Roosevelt's Plan for Taxing Undistributed Corporation Profits . . . How David Cushman Coyle Thinks All This Should Work Out.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent)

Washington—On President Roosevelt's desk, among the toy animals, memorandum pads, pencils and other paraphernalia, visitors have sometimes observed a small brown book.

Both the president and Mrs. Roosevelt have been known to recommend the book to friends. Its purpose is to tell people how to keep the capitalistic machine operating without running into the ditch.

Presumably one is justified in assuming that it at least partly reflects what's going on in Roosevelt's mind as he grapples with the problems of recovery and re-election. Especially since readers of the little brown book now realize that it forecast the president's unexpected proposal to revamp the corporation tax system by taxing undistributed corporation profits.

The book is called "Brass Tacks" and its author is David Cushman Coyle, a consulting engineer of note.

Here's what Coyle had to say about corporation surpluses, which now seem so significant:

" . . . there is another type of insurance against hard times that already has been widely used. This is the habit of laying up corporation surplus for the purpose of paying dividends when not currently earned."

"The corporation reserve is the grandfather and president of the Bootstraps Club. Here the fallacious notion that money should be made to work has had the most devastating effects on the business world, and no program for stabilizing business will be really effective until this notion has been swept away."

How It All Starts

"The first stage in using surplus earnings to bring on ruin is to deposit them in the bank during the early stages of prosperity. The banker naturally lends the corporation's money to one of its competitors for expansion of capacity, which stimulates business and for a time shows no indication of the inevitable crash. As the bubble grows larger and more iridescent, the corporations turn their surplus funds loose in the call market. This is called preserving a liquid condition."

"Then when the bubble bursts the companies draw out their funds, wrecking the banks or calling loans on speculators as the case may be, and generally deflating everything in sight."

Assaults "Ploughing In"
Coyle excoriates the "ploughing in" theory, admitting it to be "conservative and respectable," which uses company earnings "to overexpand its plant to such extent that competitors will be forced to cut prices until the industry is ruined."

"The idea that every man and every company can grow indefinitely at everyone else's expense is the basis for many an ambitious program, which when added to others of its kind paralyzes the whole economic organism."

"Some day there will be a prohibitive tax on all corporation profits which are not either distributed immediately in dividends or laid aside in currency."

All of which proceeds from the Coyle theory that the nation must "avoid wasting our substance in riotous investment" and that economic salvation lies in an increase in personal and national spending accompanied by a reduction of the rate of saving and investment.

Cites Prime Requisites

Prime requisites, he says, are:

1. Genuine old age pensions and other forms of economic security which will diminish the urge for thrift.

2. Heavy income and inheritance taxes which would finance the program and tend to keep money in circulation rather than in investment.

Coyle suggests a $50 a month pension for 10,000,000 persons over 60, which would cost $6,000,000,000 a year and with the usual turnover, he says, would increase national income 15 or 20 billion dollars in addition to benefits of increased stability.

Today's demand, Coyle says, is "not for capital, nor for labor, but for buyers to carry away the goods." The unemployed must be absorbed in "service" jobs.

What's 40 Billions?

Pointing out that we have lost 40 billions a year since 1929 by staying in the depression, Coyle says:

"If the government could keep us out by spending anything up to 40 billions every year until Doom's Day, that would be cheaper than what we are doing now. What is 40 billion

Hymns Again Vie With 'Sweet Adeline' in Chicago

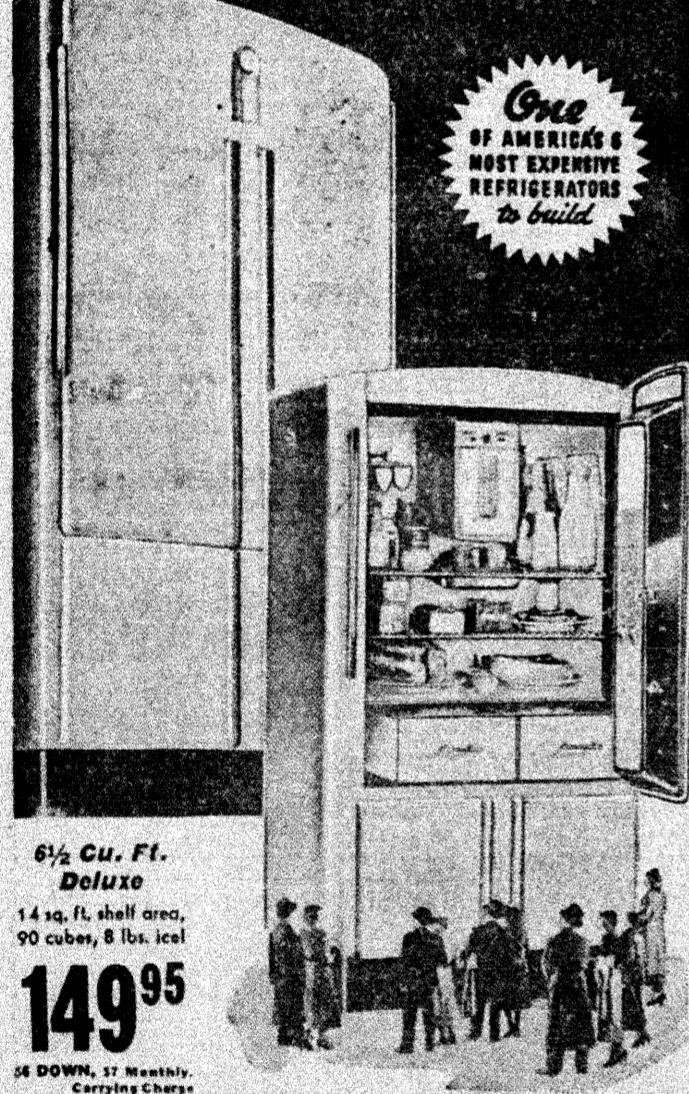

Chicagoans who were dazed when they heard the strains of "Rock of Ages" coming from the corner tavern can stop feeling their pulses. An old pre-prohibition custom was revived when, as shown above, a bunch of Salvation Army lads and lassies, the "Midnight Brigade," began whooping it up—for sweet charity's sake—in Chicago night spots. The proximity of Demon Rum hardly seemed to bother the good people as they mingled popular numbers with hymns to divert to their drum some of the change sliding across the bar, the only charge made by the "Midnight Brigade."

MacMurray Choir to Sing at White Hall Vesper Meet Sunday

Chorus of 20 Voices to Be Heard in M.E. Church at Afternoon Service

White Hall—Rev. A. E. Linfield, pastor for the Methodist church, announces that the services for next Sunday will be as usual, Sabbath school at 9:30 and morning worship at 10:45. There will be no evening service but there will be another of the vesper services which have been running for the past several Sunday afternoons at 4 o'clock, and that a special treat is in store for the people of White Hall Sunday afternoon, March 15, when the MacMurray College choir of twenty voices will sing a number of selections at the 4 o'clock vesper service of the Methodist church.

This talented group has given a large number of concerts throughout this section of the state and has been met with crowded houses everywhere. Miss Mildred Hamilton, a former resident of White Hall, is a member of the choir.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Rev. Thomas J. M. Crapp of the First Methodist church of Beardstown, whose subject will be "A Stubborn Faith." Dr. Crapp is a forceful, eloquent speaker, and is widely known as a preacher to youth. Everyone is cordially invited but all young people are especially urged to be present. There will be no charge of admission but the usual offering will be taken. The service will begin at 4 o'clock.

Entertains Class

Mrs. Henry Shirley, hostess with Mrs. Lynn Smith assisting, entertained the Eva Brooks class of the Presbyterian Sunday school on Tuesday, March 10. Fourteen members answered to roll call and Mrs. Smith had charge of the devotional hour. After the business meeting the remainder of the afternoon was turned over to the entertainment committee. Mrs. Mark Lowenstein and Mrs. Ward Evans.

After a Biblical game, a musical program in keeping with St. Patrick's day was presented which included some talent that had not been heard of late. Mrs. J. Stewart of Lincoln who will be remembered as Miss Ruth Evans played and sang some Irish songs. Miss Jessie played a mandolin solo, "Red Sails in the Sunset." Mrs. Ward Evans and Mrs. Henry Shirley played a piano duet of Irish airs. Mrs. Lynn Smith and Mrs. Mabel Richert sang a duet, "Where the River Shannon Flows," with Mrs. Shirley accompanying. It will be remembered that in 1908 Miss Mabel Richert won the gold medal at the county contest in vocal solo.

The hostess served refreshments in keeping with the St. Patrick's idea.

There were two guests, Mrs. Wilmett and Mrs. Lloyd Seely. The April meeting of the class will be held at the home of Mrs. Dean Corsa with Mrs. G. A. Ruckel assisting.

White Hall News Notes

W. H. Dyer, 75, of Hillview is suffering with an infection on his nose. His condition is considered serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Boggess of Alton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boggess on Centennial avenue.

The members of the committee are M. G. Norris, chairman; U. B. Sowell and Edward Nelson.

Five major issues were prepared by the program committee and were listed as Industrial Development, Civic Development, Commercial Development, Community Advertising and General Interests.

They recommended that committee be appointed to make a survey of small industries now operating in Jerseyville and to investigate the possibilities of bringing other small industries into the city that might fit into our community, rather than to devote too much time in trying to attract some large factory which would be willing to match its experience with our dollars.

Begin Sowing Oats

Oats sowing will be underway quite generally in Jersey county by the last of this week. Tractors were busy in many fields Wednesday where corn ground is to be utilized for oats this year. The soil in most instances worked up in good condition.

A few farmers began sowing Tuesday which is fairly early for this locality, and oats seeded now is calculated to mature in the summer ahead of the hot period which cuts the yield of oats blooming then.

THIS NATURAL FOOD GENTLY REGULATES YOUR SYSTEM

Furnishes Needed "Bulk" for Regular Habits

Your doctor will tell you that keeping healthy depends far more on proper diet than on drugs, that common constipation is usually due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, and that patent medicines give you only temporary relief.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gently acting "bulk" which corrects the cause of common constipation. This "bulk" takes up moisture, forming a soft mass which helps to cleanse the system.

ALL-BRAN gives your body the regular internal exercise it needs to prevent sluggishness. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Studies on normal men and women have shown that this delicious cereal is perfectly satisfactory. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonsfuls daily are usually sufficient. Consult your doctor if you do not gain relief this way. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FEAR OF COLD MAY LEAD TO TOO HOT BROODER HOUSES

Urbana, Ill.—This winter has made poultrymen so "cold conscious" that there is more danger than ever that brooder houses will be overheated at the risk of severe losses among the thousands of baby chicks that will soon be coming on in Illinois, according to H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Even in a normal season too many brooder houses feel like a fourth-story bedroom in a small-town hotel in the summer when the temperature gets around 90 degrees, he said. This year, being just come through a record cold winter, poultrymen will be inclined to fire heavier than usual, Alp added.

"There is no need of running the risk of overheating, for chicks have been observed growing and doing well in brooder houses where at times the drinking water would scum over with ice."

"After all the brooder room is nothing but a corral to keep the chicks within reach of the stove which is substituting for the old hen. The chief differences between a good brooder stove and a good hen are the number of chicks that can be accommodated, the fact that the stove can not follow the chicks wherever they have a mind to wander and that there is no means of communication between the stove and the chicks.

"The air in the brooder room should be fresh and the temperature that is not too different from what it would be if hens were being used in place of stoves.

"Excessive room temperature, such as 80 degrees and higher, can cause slow and poor feathering, poor growth and feather picking and cannibalism.

Going along with excessive heat is usually excessive dryness, which for chicks under confinement in a room about 10 by 12 feet is far from desirable.

"Brooder room temperature should not be confused with brooder stove temperature. The temperature around the stove or hover should be such as to keep the chicks comfortable without crowding them when they settle down for the night around the edge of the hover. The stove temperature usually maintained is about 90 to 100 degrees depending upon the age of the chicks."

Wallace Hembrough of the Asbury neighborhood was among those transacting business in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon.

Chlorine gas was discovered by Scheele, who called it depilatory, calcined muriatic acid. First use of this gas during the World War was on April 22, 1915, when the Germans attacked British and French troops with it.

Jacksonville Dumps Carthage To Meet Hull In Semi-Finals

Alfred Todd New Catcher Holds Pennant Hopes of Pirates in His Big Mitt

By Felix R. McKnight
Associated Press Sports Writer
San Antonio, Texas, March 12.—(P)—Alfred Chester Todd, a story visaged catcher, holds the pennant hopes of the Pittsburgh Pirates in his big mitt. He'll be "quarterback" for a crew of veterans in his freshman year with the club.

"Last year we finished fourth," mused Manager Harold (Pie) Traynor. "It wasn't the pitching—it wasn't the hitting. It was trouble behind the plate."

"We believe we have the solution in Todd. He'll do the 'quarterbacking.' We're counting on him to protect those two and three run leads we bled last year. Look at our pitching staff. It's great, and with a boy like Todd handling it every day, half our troubles are over."

Todd was obtained from the Phillips. He is hitting at a mere pace in spring training. Last year he slipped to .288 after a .314 in 1934 but Traynor thinks he will return above the .300 mark.

"It looks as if Cy Blanton and Bill Swift, the league's two leading pitchers in effectiveness last year, will have great seasons," Traynor said. "They won 33 games last year and should do even better."

Dizzy Dean Still Demanding $40,000

By Paul Michelson
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bradenton, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Dizzy Dean signed seven contracts today—but not one with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The boldish pitching star of the Red Birds, who insists he won't sign for a dime less than $40,000, drove his tan sports car all over Bradenton, scored a score of natives with his blaring horn and talked over his troubles with every shopkeeper. The contracts he signed were for advertising and other sidelines.

As Branch Rickey, general manager and vice president of the Cardinals, neared Bradenton for what may be a final conference with his star, Dizzy announced he was leaving town for a few days.

"I've given them my final offer and it's $40,000 or nothing," he said. "You say Mr. Rickey will be in Bradenton tomorrow? Well, ol' Diz won't. He's leaving. Can't say where. It's a secret. No, it hasn't anything to do with baseball."

Dizzy, his wife prompting every statement, said the $40,000 was Rickey's own idea.

"When I talked to him last December, he said: 'Why Diz, you're a piker.'

Babe Ruth made $80,000. Aren't you worth half of that?" So, I told him I wanted forty grand."

Furthermore, said Dizzy, he is going to insist that Rickey sign a contract against popping off.

"I'm not supposed to pop off," popped Diz, but he can pop off all he wants to pop. If I do sign, I want him to sign the same anti-popping contract I sign."

"And another thing," went on ole Diz, "when and if I do sign a contract, I am going to make them take a picture of it so I can prove to my publisher that I didn't quit on them and sign at the Cardinal price. I get all kinds of letters every day from people begging me to stick by my guns. And I'm not going to let them down. Not ol' Diz. When I do sign, I want proof that I didn't play dog's n't."

"They won't allow that," he was told.

"The heck they won't," Diz shot back as he gave his horn another toot that made this reporter fall off the running board. "I'll promise to show it to you personally."

Over in the Cardinal camp, where Frankie Frisch and his perspiring athletes went through another enthusiastic workout, they laughed off a rumor that President Bob Quinn and Manager Bill McKechnie of the Boston Bees were en route to Bradenton to buy Dizzy.

The whole situation has reverted to this: the Cardinal bosses won't go out to see Dizzy any more and Dizzy won't come to them. The guess is that Rickey will call Diz in the first part of next week and sign him for around $25,000.

The veteran also is passing out pointers to other young members of the hurling staff, in addition to keeping his arm in shape.

The withdrawal of Ohio, because of an epidemic of influenza, which would have left only three teams in the running, caused the Tiger coaches to reconsider and decide to do his part toward keeping the tournament alive.

Jock McAvoy Meets John Lewis Tonight

By Alan Gould

Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, March 12.—(P)—Jock McAvoy, Britain's best puncher and perhaps her most formidable prospect for the heavyweight consideration since Bob Fitzsimmons, tackles the first objective in a highly optimistic campaign in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The Lancashire Larriper, followed a brief but spectacular New York debut early in the winter, will attempt to lift the world's light heavyweight crown from the dusky brow of John Lewis, Arizona negro, in a 15-round match.

McAvoy, the choice of most critics to win—perhaps by a knockout—rules a 9 to 10 choice in the betting. The odds in the Briton's favor have shortened, however, since Lewis flew east from St. Louis to establish training quarters at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and impress observers with his boxing ability. The rangy negro may have the antidote for Jock's wallop but he will need it.

McAvoy, now only an over-sized middleweight, likely will concede six or seven pounds to the titleholder, in addition to advantages in height and reach. Jock scales 168½ the night he flattened Eddie (Babe) Risko, the American middleweight champion, in one round last December.

Win or lose against Lewis, McAvoy will return to England to fight Jack Peterson for the British heavyweight title. He already holds the middleweight and light heavyweight championships of the old country. His ambition is to emulate Fitzsimmons, whose punch offset a lack of poundage, and fire a challenge at the heavyweight title.

Wrigley's statement doused reports that the Cubs would train in Florida a year hence.

"It's definite we'll be back at Catalina next year," he said. "Why not? We have good training conditions and Charlie Grimm and the boys have done pretty well. Whether we play any games in Florida next year depends on the success of this year's trip."

The Cubs will open a three-game series with the Chicago White Sox tomorrow before embarking on an exhibition tour that will take them to Florida before heading back for the finish of the spring series with the White Sox at Chicago.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

Pasadena, Calif., March 12.—(P)—Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Chicago White Sox, who has been having quite a time trying to decide which three of what he considers a choice squad of outfielders, to use against the Chicago Cubs, made another switch today.

The temperature reached 90 degrees today during the final workout before the opening of the series with the Cubs at Los Angeles tomorrow, making possible just the sort of drift to put the Sox on edge, according to Dykes.

Tampa, Fla., March 12.—(P)—The world champion Detroit Tigers sent a team of Cubs against the Cincinnati Reds today and carried off 14 to 4 victory.

Pitchers Al Hollingsworth and Lee Stine, a recruit from St. Paul, yielded 14 hits in the first seven innings, during which the Tigers were hitless only in the fifth. Rookie twirler Francis Wistert from Ft. Worth finished without yielding a hit.

Before the game, General Manager Larry MacPhail commented on reports the Boston Bees were willing to buy "Dizzy" Dean by saying: "Well pay for Dean $25,000 more than any other club in the National League."

Clearwater, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Brooklyn and Philadelphia inaugurated their exhibition baseball schedule today with a typical Dodger-Phillies game, the Dodgers finally winning 11 to 7.

Brooklyn pounded four Philadelphia pitchers for 12 hits, including home runs from Freddie Lindstrom, Vincent Sherlock and Danny Taylor.

George Earnshaw pitched the first five innings for the Dodgers and gave up only four hits.

Avalon, Calif., March 12.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs will return to Catalina Island to train for the 1937 National League season, owner P. K. Wrigley, who also owns the island, said today as the squad broke camp.

Wrigley's statement doused reports that the Cubs would train in Florida a year hence.

"It's definite we'll be back at Catalina next year," he said. "Why not? We have good training conditions and Charlie Grimm and the boys have done pretty well. Whether we play any games in Florida next year depends on the success of this year's trip."

James Cox Displays Remarkable Talent

Pianist Gives His Senior Recital Wednesday Night at Conservatory

On Wednesday evening a fine program of piano music was played in Music Hall by James Cox, a student of Hugh Beggs.

Mr. Cox graduated from the School for the Blind in 1932; the following September he entered the School of Music at MacMurray College and has consistently followed the course of music for piano students as prescribed for graduation in this school. His work has been of superior character; even upon his beginning of this four-year course of study he was recognized as an advanced student of piano. His keen ear and innate love of the beautiful and mystical in the realm of tone have put a rare stamp on his playing. He has revelled in unusual tonal combinations; in attempting to express some new tonal design, he has experimented for long hours at the keyboard. The results of these hours of intimate association with tone were shown in his own "Theme and Variations," the final number of his second program group, which was loudly acclaimed.

Mr. Cox plays with clarity, poetic feeling and musical understanding. All of the numbers played were of the type which emphasize these qualities, showing his work at its best. The final number consisted of the Allegro from Mendelssohn's well known concerto in G Minor in which the soloist had the support of the orchestral parts arranged for second piano, and played by Mr. Beggs—a brilliant number which received tumultuous applause.

To reach so advanced a position in art as Mr. Cox has reached is an achievement in which any student may rejoice. To reach it by surmounting great handicaps is a triumph indeed. Mr. Cox's many friends unite in congratulations and hope that the years yet coming will hold for him many more triumphs.

Ashland Will Hold Benefit Contests

Four Basketball Games on Program to Raise Cash for Athletic Board

Ashland—The Athletic Association of the Ashland Community High school is planning an All-Community Benefit Night next Tuesday night, March 17. The proceeds are to help defray the expenses of the past season in athletics.

The schedule for the evening finds an attractive schedule of four games to be played. The first game will be played between the 1935-36 high school quintet that just closed their season by winning third in the regional tournament and chalked up 23 wins for the season, and the prospective team for the 1936-37 season.

The second game will be a girls' game between the high school girls' team and the girls of the alumni. The third game will be between an "Old Man" team of the country and a similar team of the city.

The last and big game of the evening will be a game between the strong Independents of Tallula and Ashland. This is the third meeting of the two teams and should decide the Independent championship of the West Central Area.

Linked with the unusual attraction of games, will be a program for all consisting of contests for the young and old. Which lady in the community above 40 years of age can make the most free throws out of 10 attempts is one question to be settled. Before the evening is over the "Martin and the Coy" feud may be tame.

Disorders in Spain Growing; Murder of Leader Frustrated

Police Guard Killed; Assassins Escape; Outbreaks Get Nearer Capital

By ALEXANDER H. UHL
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Madrid.—(P)—A police guard was shot and killed today during a daring but unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Prof. Luis Jimenez Asua, one of the leading Socialists of Spain.

The attempted assassination was part of the bitter warfare between Rightists and Leftists which is spreading through Spain in a vast conflagration.

Policeman Gisbert, bodyguard for Professor Jimenez, was hit by five bullets when he interposed himself as a shield in front of the Socialist deputy. He died in hospital. Jimenez was unhurt.

A Fascist student, Emilio Bellobell, died today of wounds he received Tuesday. He was the second student to die in the present disorders.

A group of four or five men opened fire on the professor from an automobile as he was departing from his home to go to his law classes at the Madrid University.

The assassins' car sped off without police being able to overtake it.

The up-current of "civil war" between Rightists and Leftists, arising from the Leftist election victory and assumption of government power, persisted with both sides accusing the other of instigating the disorders. More than 50 persons have been killed.

The wave of church burnings, which marked the outbreaks in southern Spain, crept nearer the capital with the burning of a church at Buñol, 40 miles from Madrid.

This, coupled with disorders in the suburb of Valencia, led authorities to redouble their precautions in the capital, which has been comparatively free thus far from troubles.

8 YEAR OLD BOASTS OF STARTING FIRE

Did $50,000 Damage Before It Was Checked

Washington—(P)—The parents of an 8-year old boy seemed to be getting along nicely explaining to police he was too small to start a $50,000 five-alarm fire. That, until the boy—his ego pricked perhaps—volunteered:

"Oh yes, I could too, mother."

So the boy was charged today with destroying $50,000 worth of property, which included a lumber yard, 10 garages and nine houses. Police said he started the fire in a woodshed to warm himself and then ran home when it spread.

Basketball Suits Recovered at Dump, Returned to Owner

Illinois College Athletic Equipment Was Stolen from Coach's Car

Eight basketball uniforms belonging to Illinois College which were stolen Sunday night from Coach La Rue VanMeter's automobile, were found Wednesday afternoon at a dump pile north of the city. The pants, sweaters and coats were first seen by Abel Menezes, who took them to his home and notified the police.

Rejoicing at the recovery of the valuable equipment, Coach VanMeter and members of the police department took possession of the articles. A check-up showed that only one heavy blue and white sweater is missing. This garment has the words "Illinois College" on it.

The uniforms and a large traveling case were stolen from VanMeter's car while it was parked on Grove street. The thief or thieves apparently found they could make no use of the distinctively marked athletic goods, and abandoned them. To the college the uniforms were worth considerable, but to an individual practically nothing.

PRAYER FOR TOIL

By Helen Welshimer

THERE are so many weary in the land, Who search the streets in vain for boon of work; There are old men who can not understand Denial now of tasks they did not shirk In younger years. And there are young men, too, Whose days pass by in ceaseless monotone, Who only ask that they have work to do, Some humble task for each to call his own.

THE laborer is worthy of his hire, Dear God, you told us, in the early years. Now these, Thy children, daily faint and tire, Beset by hunger, overcome with fears; Once mama fell each day from overhead— They ask a chance to earn their daily bread!

CITY OFFICIALS HOLD "OPEN HOUSE" FOR THURSDAY VISITORS

Jacksonville's municipal government was inspected by an enthusiastic group of students, club members and other interested citizens Thursday between 2 and 5 o'clock, when the city officials held "Open House."

The project was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club and the League of Women Voters, in a movement to encourage citizens and students to become acquainted with the workings of the city government.

The visitors were fascinated with the display during their inspection of the various departments, where they were most cordially welcomed.

Further, the menu possibilities will be considerably widened with hot, fresh cooked lunches possible.

The visitors were fascinated with the display during their inspection of the various departments, where they were most cordially welcomed.

Public Works Director Robert Kinney announced today that the new state road map to be issued Monday will show for the first time the locations of 33 new small picnic areas built for the accommodation of tourists.

Programs were given the visitors compiled by City Clerk John Phillips which contained information concerning the elected officials, council meetings, twelve departments of city Government and other appointive offices and boards.

The director particularly called attention to the largest of these picnic areas, adjacent to state Route 94A in Henderson county, outside of the town of Oquawka. He described it in detail.

"The site is the approach to an old covered wooden bridge. When the present highway was constructed we swung the road away from the old right-of-way creating a triangle land between the two roads. This ground we kept along with the old right-of-way, sodded it, put in trees and equipment and then had what actually amounts to a small park.

Y., for the trip to California. The 200-inch mirror will be taken to the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, where it will be ground to perfection, an operation requiring three to four years. Then it will be placed in the world's largest telescope in Mount Palomar observatory.

City Council Hears Reports, Complaint; Adopts Resolutions

Members of the city council at their meeting last night heard a complaint that gasoline pumps are being operated upon city property, heard a report that stated the city water is safe for drinking purposes, adopted a resolution to coincide with state requirements concerning speed limits on state controlled highways in the city, adopted a privy ordinance, discussed the purchase of a new street sweeper, and transacted other business. Following the council meeting the city officials met in a road district session and adopted a tax anticipation warrant resolution.

Attorney William N. Hairgrove appeared before the council to register complaint that certain operators of gas stations are using city property as sites for their pumps. Mr. Hairgrove cited a supreme court decision to prove that the use of city property was illegal where pumps impede traffic and asked the council to take steps to have the equipment removed. It was brought out that there are at least six places in the city where it is claimed pumps are on city property. At the conclusion of the discussion Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn requested Engineer Kenneth Stapleton to make a survey of the location of gasoline pumps in question and report back to the council.

City Clerk John Phillips announced that the February motor fuel tax allotment for the city was $1,772.85. The city clerk also read a letter from Clarence W. Klassen, Springfield, acting chief state sanitary engineer, which stated that the city water is safe for drinking purposes at the time samples were taken.

Turbidity In Samples
The letter stated that "these samples showed more turbidity than should normally exist in a satisfactory public water supply and a turbidity much higher than samples from the supply have shown in the past. This emphasizes the difficult operating conditions with which your waterworks personnel has had to contend during the past several weeks. For example, the turbidity in the raw water increased from 25 parts per million to 2100 parts per million and a proportional change took place in some of the other properties of this raw water; among these a very marked decrease in the alkalinity. Naturally this condition resulted in extremely difficult operating problems and we believe that those responsible for delivering to the consumers the quality of water which they did when the condition of the plant and the equipment is considered."

"The mixing basin which is so important in providing proper coagulation and thus clarification of a water is such that efficient mixing of the chemicals with the water has proven of little value because the piping arrangement of the water to the sedimentation basin is such that even though a proper flow would be formed in the mixing basin this flow is considerably broken up before the water enters the sedimentation basin and therefore proper settling and clarification is not obtained."

"After the water reaches the settling basin there is not sufficient capacity to allow proper settling time. "Also a very important piece of equipment, namely, the loss-of-head gages on the filters do not and have not operated for number of years and it is by this particular piece of equipment that the operator is able to tell when a filter needs washing. In other words, the efficient and proper operation of a filter can not be accomplished without this particular piece of equipment in excellent operating conditions.

"In addition to these loss-of-head gages not being in condition to operate other filter appurtenances such as the rate-of-flow gages and rate controllers are also in a condition so that they do not properly perform.

Need Improvement

"We can not urge too strongly that the city officials make necessary improvements in the water supply so that a clear, clean and satisfactory water can be delivered to the consumers at all times. In order to make the Jacksonville public water supply clean, clear as well as safe, we recommend the following: Place of loss-of-head, rate of flow gages and rate controllers in operating condition; the present mixing basin is not efficient as it should be and a study should be made so that the flow as it leaves the basin is in good condition and is not broken up on its way to the settling basin; increased facilities for proper sedimentation should be provided."

The council adopted a resolution at the request of the state division of highways establishing speed zones in the city. These zones include therefore that the city maintained by and under the control of the state. The provisions of the resolution set the following speed limits: 25 miles per hour from city limits to city limits on U. S. Route 36; 25 miles per hour from south limits to junction of Route 36 and U. S. Route 67; 25 miles per hour from Wabash railroad to Walnut street on Route 67; 20 miles an hour north of Junction on Route 36 to Wabash on Route 67; 25 miles per hour on Walnut to north city limits on U. S. 67; 30 miles an hour to its junction with Route 67 to Prairie street on Route 104; 40 miles per hour from Prairie street to the west city limits on Route 104.

With one dissenting vote cast by Alderman George Brown the council gave approval to the park board's request to issue tax anticipation warrants. Brown thought the board should operate within its budget, and was told that the park board finances are in much better condition than they were a year ago.

To Call Bonds

The treasurer's report read at the meeting showed a balance of $151,420 in the special assessment bonds fund, and it was voted to authorize the city treasurer to call in certain bonds to decrease the balance. The bonds will be called by lot.

The condition of the city street sweeper was discussed and a salesman for a street sweeper company explained that it was estimated that repairs necessary to the machine, which is now disabled, would cost $389. To place the sweeper in good running condition would cost $1,000. It is estimated and the machine might not run then for any length of time, if it was reported. The cost of a new sweeper is $6,790 with a trade-in allowance of $100 for the old machine. The sweeper question was referred to the finance and highway committee for investigation and a report.

The council adopted an ordinance for regulation of the location and construction of privies and cesspools and for the removal of the contents and connections with sewers of properties abutting upon sewer lines. Privies not abutting upon or adjacent to sewers are regulated by the ordinance. The plan of reconstruction must be submitted to the health officer or city inspector before building and a permit must be obtained.

The ordinance provides that the privies cannot be built no closer than 20 feet of a residence, school, church, factory or store, and must abut on an alley. The buildings must have concrete vaults unless located not less than 75 feet of a well water supply source, then an earth pit can be used. Other regulations provide that the privies must be reasonably fly proof and must be kept in a sanitary condition.

Death At Hospital Here Last Night Follows Illness Of Month

Harry L. Hall, 248 Webster avenue, one of Jacksonville's most prominent and widely known business men, passed away at 11:30 o'clock last night at Our Saviour's Hospital, following an illness of one month. He had been actively engaged in business in this city for almost fifty years.

He was born in Jacksonville, May 22, 1864, being the second son of the late John W. and Frances Hall, long time residents of this community. He received his education in the Jacksonville public schools graduating from the Jacksonville high school in the class of 1886.

The summer following his graduation Mr. Hall entered the employ of his father where he learned the trade of buggy and carriage building, the firm being known for the excellent carriages and buggies which they manufactured. The father and two sons enjoyed a very successful business, the firm name being John W. Hall and Sons.

On the death of the father in 1900, W. E. and Harry L. Hall took over the business which they continued for 32 years under the name of Hall Brothers.

With the exception of three summers spent in Winnipeg and the Dakotas, as representative of the McCormick Binder company, Harry L. Hall has been active in the business life of Jacksonville. The firm numbered among its customers families who have purchased their buggies and farm implements from Hall Brothers for fifty years.

Mr. Hall assisted in the manufacture of the first automobile to run over Jacksonville streets. The automobile was constructed in the Hall carriage and buggy shop and was tested on South Main street. It operated successfully as far as Anna street but the builders had some difficulty navigating the hill south of the power plant. It can be said that the machine was one of the first to be constructed in the central west. Mr. Hall built most of the mechanical parts.

On April 30, 1900, Mr. Hall was united in marriage with Miss Georgia Simons, a member of a well known Jacksonville family. The widow and one son, Harry Lee Hall survive. One daughter Ida Simons, died in infancy. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. H. L. Griswold and one brother, Julian Hall, both of this city. A brother, W. E. Hall, died a few weeks ago.

Mr. Hall was an active member of the Central Christian church and was a regular attendant at all its services.

The remains were removed to the Reynolds Mortuary.

Funeral services will be held at the White Hall Funeral home Saturday at 2:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. C. W. Kerst, pastor of the First Baptist church in White Hall.

Burial will be in Fernwood cemetery in Roodhouse.

There are four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the White Hall Funeral home Saturday at 2:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. C. W. Kerst, pastor of the First Baptist church in White Hall.

This life was ended with the famous Aaron Burr duel. The speaker pointed out that this incident classed Hamilton as one of the world's martyrs.
